

Bio – Marc Rabah

Marc Rabah serves as the Head of Hohenstein Academy. In this role he oversees e-learning, seminars and courses offered by Hohenstein. Marc is also responsible for published educational content for Hohenstein and RAL Laundry Association, including webcasts, training videos and content management.

Prior to joining Hohenstein in 2017, Marc began his career at Lidl, where he gained sales and marketing experience for future roles in Europe and the U.S. Other experience includes roles in the chemical, plastic and medical device industries.

In 2016 he was part of the Fresenius Medical Care team awarded “German Association of Mid-Sized Companies” for the development of a new e-learning platform. He also has extensive experience as a public speaker, focusing on the development of blended learning and e-learning concepts.

Marc holds a degree in Trade and Commerce from Heilbronn CCI.